

Product Rename Announcement

Dear RIGOL customers:

According to the update of the company's product model naming specification, since November 8, 2022, the company's products "HDO4000 series digital oscilloscope" "HDO1000 series digital oscilloscope" officially changed to "DHO4000 series digital oscilloscope" "DHO1000 series digital oscilloscope". The new DHO means Digital High-resolution Oscilloscopes (DHO).

The new DHO4000 and DHO1000 series are the same products as the original HDO4000 and HDO1000 series.

Customers who have ordered "HDO4000" and "HDO1000" series products can still enjoy the after-sales service provided by RIGOL normally. The subsequent firmware upgrades will not affect the models of the products you have purchased (DHO series and HDO series will use the same firmware version).

Thank you for your concern and support for RIGOL all the time We will continue to provide our users with high-quality products and services!
